Land Fund Is Confusing!

For the past eighteen months or so, the Rocky Mountaineers have been collecting funds for a plot of land to be used for their G.F.R. run and other functions for the club and other Gay organizations. Many people have become involved in this fund raising effort, and rightly so, for it is an excellent idea and could be good for the total community!

The confusing area, or at least confusing to me is what I have been told recently, that the probable land site is over three and one-half hours from Denver. This could be quite difficult to be enjoyed by groups without hiring transportation and could cause other problems such as medical care, etc. I was also informed that the clubs or groups wishing to use the land will probably be charged a fee and a clean up charge. Is this fair? These comments made by several reliable people here are maybe so much hearsay, but I am in hopes that the "Club" will publish a statement concerning this and letting all of us know what they intend, after all it's the money given openly by we the community to you to be used as originally stated by the club. We would just like to know "what's going on."

Congratulations Mayor Pena!

EXPRESSIONS

Togetherness, Unity?

These are two very void words where Denver's Gay Community is concerned, or at least it has seemed that way for the past four years! Functions are often held for one reason or another and only 65 persons or less may show up to support usually their own group. What happened to the days when all groups supported each other?

To try to raise funds or support a good cause, a function almost has to rely on open sex and drugs in order to draw a good crowd. Now this, to my knowledge, has not happened but it is an example of what you have to do to get a large crowd. People just don't seem to care about each other. At the Rodeo cocktail party the bars and clubs stood together with their own booths and materials and the people from out-of-state attended in mass, where were the people from dear old Denver? The Mollie Awards, presented to honor many people who work for all of us, where was Denver? I will state, I was very proud at Tracks when over 600 showed up for a Mayoral Forum. At least we seem to care about who's in the Mayor's office. A.I.D.S., a horrible health problem here and all over the U.S., many fund raisers have been scheduled and the attendance has been very minimal. The GLCCC all of a sudden has taken off as our "community leaders" and this has caused considerable concern for many in that the community, in general, doesn't accept it as a center or viable organization and feel it is full of separatists ideas! Is this Unity? Denver has so much to offer the Gay Community but we are going to have to support each other. Many fund raisers are too long and very tedious but shouldn't we support our own or at least try?

The most upsetting event in recent times was the "Candlelight Vigil" presented by the G.L.C.C.C. in front of the U.S. Court House. The event proved to be quite embarassing to many. We had 65 people in attendace to honor our Gays lost to A.I.D.S. here in Colorado. The major problem, the G.L.C.C.C. forgot or didn't feel they had to advertise the event. And there we stood in front of every major media in Denver. I don't mean to pick on "the Center", but it seems to be in charge of many things and is in a very vulnerable position. With Gay Pride Week coming up, I wonder. I wonder, are we together, do we care about each other, do we care about ourselves?

OUTSIDE IN

To the Music Eye:

Dear Mr. Stirman,

Who the Hell are you? Are you, or have you ever been a disc jockey, a Billboard reporter, or even worked in a record store? Or are you one of those people that think KPBI is Denver's answer to L.A.'s KROQ?

As head D.J. at Tracks, I'm writing to you with complaints about your last few articles in The Inside/Outside Press. You have really upset my intelligence as a D.J., as well as several other D.J.'s who play at some of Denver's finest "discos".

If you were recently impressed by hearing tired songs such as "Peek-A-Boo", and "It's You, Only You", then I'm quite sure that you are, or should be an avid fan of KIMN. Both of these songs have been on my playlist, and in my program at Tracks, since November of 1982. As for "Der Kommissar", otherwise known as "Don't Turn Around" which debuted at Tracks last June, you are quite contradictory in condemning Laura Branigan's version, "Deep in the Dark". At least she had the initiative to change the lyrics and the beat of this tired, worn out song. Looking at many playlists of the hottest clubs on each coast, "Solitaire" is quite high on all of them. I personally have never played this song, and probably never will.

Your review of "Kissing to be Clever" by Culture Club is a little late considering that the album was released almost a year ago. As for your respect for the "newness" of the "Let's Dance" album by David Bowie, you were correct in the album's production. Chic, a disco group did produce this album. Did you know that "Let's Dance", the album's title cut, has the exact beat structure as "le Freak", Chic's most popular "disco" song to date?

If you are into new music as you try to portray in this month's article, then may I suggest a few cuts for you to listen to:

Sweet Dreams – Eurythmics
Cool Places/Modesty Plays – Sparks
Blue Monday – New Order
Lucky Day – Thompson Twins
Fascination – Human League
Shy Boy – Bananarama

These songs, as well as, "Dr. Detroit". the new DEVO single, and "Mystery Boy", the new Culture Club single, can be heard at Tracks at least five times a week.

Yes, I do still play what you have termed "disco", but even "disco" has drastically changed in the past two years. For instance, have you by chance heard the new song by Donna Summer? You probably have and may have even danced to it thinking it was new female rock vocalist. Disco still is very popular in gay bars despite what you think you know.

You may be the author of "The Music Eye", but it's quite obvious that the music eye is deaf. If you really enjoy hearing the songs you mentioned, or recommended in this month's article, then may I suggest that you visit some of the night clubs in Glendale, where the women think they are all members of the Go-Go's, and the men all think they're straight!

Sincerely,
David Henney

IN RESPONSE

Dear Mr. Henney,

First of all thank you for writing to me. You have been the only one in the past 6 months to take the initiative to write me concerning my article.

As to my credentials. I was a D.J. for a club in L.A. called The One Way for three years. I worked as a D.J. for Denver's Public Radio Station KCFR for over a year.

You seem to take great joy in pointing out several radio stations that I probably listen to. If you have been reading my articles then you would know I listen to KBCO, KICC and KILO.

Next, I would like to point out that I am a critic. A critic is someone who passes his or her own personal opinion (be it right or wrong) on to the public. As your letter seems to indicate my critiques are upsetting you and several other D.J.'s. For this I do not apologize because these reviews are my viewpoint, which I might add are respected by many people I meet in the bars or elsewhere. I don't claim to be perfect, but then who does?

As for your list of suggested cuts I would enjoy I have heard them all except for the one by Eurythmics.

Not all of my reviews are for the dance bars, many of the L.P.'s I review are for home enjoyment also. Many gay people don't go to dance bars and hear what you are playing. It is for these people I also write.

Your statement about the changes in disco don't hold much water. You said if I heard Donna Summer's new song I would think it a new rock vocalist. If it sounds rock then how can you term it disco?

The music that any one individual listens to is a personal choice, and just like anything else without different choices this would be a very dull world.

Our entire community is justifiably frightened by the AIDS crisis. We will make some difficult decisions. We can either react out of fear, with anger and frustration, or we can act to dispel fear, with compassion and intelligence.

We are the Ballpark. We have a lot to lose in this fight, but we know that our loss pales when compared to what a single person with AIDS stands to lose.

We have been in the fight before, but never against so elusive an enemy. Our past fights have been in the political arena, and our record of community support speaks for itself. But this is an extraordinary challenge requiring extraordinary effort.

We now commit ourselves and our resources toward education, understanding, support and fund raising in this fight.

Join us in the weeks and months to come as we embark on a new course.

We promise to be leaders in providing a better understanding of sex and safe sex.

We pledge our support of every effort throughout the community to raise funds and provide information regarding this crisis.

We plan to present in our advertising and promotion the most accurate, up-to-date and honest information available regarding the AIDS crisis.

We know there are some who will mistake our motives and some who will speak against us. We trust that the truth in our intentions will speak louder.

We know that given the choice between pointing fingers and joining hands, most of you will join with us.

Together, let us enter a new age of support, understanding and strength. We are fighters. Together, we will win.

Sincerely,

Terry Fuller

THE MUSIC EYE

The Inside/Outside Press would like to welcome Gary Triplett as a new writer to our musical staff. Gary will cover the dance music scene.

My name is Gary Triplett and I am a DJ at the Ballpark. Due to the nature of our business the dj's at the Ballpark are able to play a diverse selection of music. I hope to be able to share some of our favorite music with you in this column.

The record industry is really gearing up their 12" market and lots of good new music is available both domestically and as imports. I'll denote in my review whether the record is an import or is available domestically.

Just Can't Help Believing/Boystown Gang
Ramshorn-Holland - Import 12"

This is the newest release from the Boystown Gang. The song is a remake of an old B.J. Thomas record from years gone by, and it's too hot!!! The record times out at about 138 beats per minute (BPM) and is full of synthesized and electronic background instruments. This is sure to be a summer sizzler, with the male background vocals singing "This time the boy is gonna stay". Keep it up Boystown Gang.

I Love You So Manny's
Ascot - Domestic 12"

This group is new on the music scene and gives us a wonderful dance tune that is also a love song. The 12" has an instrumental version on the B side and I personally prefer it. The vocals are a bit weak and if it had been sung with a stronger vocalist, the record would have probably carried more impact. Still, the instrumental part of the song is very catchy and I highly recommend it.

Blind Vision/Blanc Mange
Island - Domestic 12"

This is Blanc Mange's newest effort and in my opinion their finest. Again, the vocal side of the single doesn't appeal to me nearly as much as the instrumental side. The catchy part with the horn is too hot — just pees!!! It would be well worth buying this record for your collection of 12" singles. The single has a vocal side, an instrumental side, with a vocal cut at the end of the instrumental side.

FIGHTING FOR OUR LIVES

Our community is coming to grips with a serious health crisis, AIDS. As we gather together to provide support, funding and education, we urge everyone to act with intelligence and understanding. We are all Fighters. Together we will win.

WHAT YOU CAN DO

Express your concern. Write to our elected representatives. Demand the increased funding we need for research and patient care.

Give as much as you can. If you don't have money, volunteer your time to one of the many community organizations fighting this crisis.

Boycott ignorance. Learn as much as you can about AIDS and your sexuality, and look to us in the future for reliable information.
Learn about safe sex and being responsible. Learn to fight fear with knowledge.

Come out about your sexuality with everyone you can. Break down the barriers of prejudice by building bridges of honesty.

WHAT WE ARE DOING

Right now, we are creating an information network of national and local health professionals to keep us informed. In the future, look to us for updates and educational materials regarding your health and sexuality.

Locally, we will assist, in every way we can, our community efforts at fund raising including direct financial support and extending information regarding fund raising events to our members.

Nationally, we will assist in fund raising efforts by providing post cards and sample letters to our elected officials, and encouraging a letter writing campaign. In fact, if you will write a letter to the official of your choice, and bring it to us, we'll pay the postage and give you a dollar off your BP admission as well.

We will continue to promote proper hygiene and a clean facility for our members and friends.

And regardless of where you seek social contact, in the weeks to come we will be providing you with guidelines for confident, safe encounters.

For more information, contact the Denver AIDS Hotline at 837-1598.

VOLLEYBALL SEASON RETURNS

B.J.'s Carousel was crowded to the max on Sunday, May 22nd. Not only were the Volleyball teams there showing all of us a great time, but The Exit of Colorado Springs was visiting with their usual crazy pool players and cheerleaders. After a fantastic buffet brunch, they were hot on the pool table and all over the court for a very enjoyable Sunday afternoon. Oh, by the way, congratulations to the Tool Box Volleyball Team. They won their 1st two games and did it with ease.

"Don's Alley" gets

Triangle Denver, long proven for presenting the Best Busts ever, presented their Annual Memorial Day Bash with $2 beer and great men abounding. The event pulled men from all over Colorado and everyone jammed the bar and enjoyed each other and Don's new video set up in Don's Alley. The new addition gives another new dimension to the T and is extremely enjoyable.

David's cheers rodeo-goers

David's did it again! During Rodeo Week they presented "After The Gold Rush", a party in honor of Denver's 1st Rodeo. The bar was very well decorated, a David's tradition, with many of our out-of-town friends in attendance along with members of the C.G.R.A. The music started a little sluggish, but picked up as the party went on and was enjoyed by all.

ASTROLOGICALLY SPEAKING

By MIKE STAR

If you were born between June 21st and July 22nd, you are a Cancer – a highly sensitive Moon Child. Sensitivity is your keyword, yet moodiness is your middle name. Cancers are kind, caring, extremely maternal, loving of home and family, protective, emotional and loyal. Yet they are also crabby, quick-tempered, sulky, unreasonable and defensive. What a mixture! But, as a Cancer, when you feel something, you REALLY FEEL something! And, just like a crab, your tough outer shell often hides your soft, sensitive flesh within – in other words, your vulnerable heart.

Cancer is, by far, the most home-loving of all the signs. Also the most dependent. Your natural maternal instincts cause you to "mother" everyone that needs you. Yet this trait often makes you feel dependent upon the love and affection of those you smother with maternal devotion. You cling to those you love and need, and rejection is something which you cannot deal with. If rejected, you tend to hide until your wounds heal. Your loyalty to loved ones and most of all, to family, is most admirable. But it's important for you to "spread your wings" and get out of the house once in a while. Too much domesticity can stifle a person.

Your tendency is to live in the past, since you are so sentimental and dreamy. This can make you a great historian, with a great mind for dates and events. Your memory is excellent. It's important for you to live in the present, though, as your wonderful imagination all too easily causes you to lose yourself in the past.

Your Cancer sensitivity is often misunderstood. When you are hurt you tend to snap at everyone in sight, making people think you are just a moody individual. The truth is that you need constant love and security, and when someone upsets you, you lash out defensively trying to hide your tender emotions. Those closest to you probably understand and realize that the trick to cheering you up again is to reach you through humor. Your outrageous sense of humor is your saving grace in life as it rescues you from many up-and-down moods and your fears. And you have MANY fears, both real and imaginary.

Your stomach is your weak spot. In fact, every emotion you experience settles itself in the pit of your stomach. Even love hits you like a blow in the stomach. Ulcers can result, from too much worry. And overeating is a real threat – Cancer rules food! Nobody can cook, OR EAT, like a crab! Food and its preparation is an art to you – an art at which you excel. This all goes along with your domestic urges.

As a Cancer, money will always be highly important to you, as it represents security. You may even have a knack for turning one dollar into a million dollars! Cancers make excellent homemakers, cooks, doctors, nurses, teachers, psychiatrists, botanists, real estate dealers and caretakers of children. Your love of children is an inspiration to mothers everywhere. But you must guard against being too overprotective of your offspring, as you tend to "cling" to young ones tenaciously.

If you are a true crab, you will never go after anything you want directly or aggressively. Instead, you tend to bide your time and then seize upon an opportunity when the timing is just right. Many Cancers are night people. You need to walk under the moonlight while you dream your million and one romantic dreams. No other sign can experience such heights of ecstasy then plummet into such depths of despair. You feel things deeply and for this reason we all need you, dear sweet crab. Take care of us and we will love and protect you from the cold, cruel world in return.

One thing is for sure – we know we can always come home again when there is a tender, loving Cancer there to welcome us. How we need you!

1983 is a great year for you to enjoy life again, as all the tension and strain from last year is over. Have fun!

The following astrological advice pertains to the last week of June and the first three weeks of July:

Aries (March 21-April 19): Well, what a switch! Instead of being your usually active self, you suddenly want to stay home and be domestic. Why not? Perhaps you just need a little rest before you start running around again. If there are any family matters that need attention, this is the time to see to it. Try not to be so moody, as your natural tendency is to try and "shake off" those homebody desires. Instead, go along with this temporary mood and enjoy your home.

Taurus (April 20-May 20): Sometimes you are accused of being slow-moving. Not so right now! In fact, you probably have more to do than you can handle. But no doubt you are enjoying every minute of all this activity. This can be a fun time, perhaps to "get away" for a weekend. Your need to communicate is strong and your thoughts are quite optimistic. Catch up on your letter writing. If you feel like it, do some shopping and run some errands. There's no limit to how much you can accomplish.

Gemini (May 21-June 20): Now is the perfect time to use all that energy of yours toward making money. It's very possible that you may develop two or more sources of income. Good! You certainly are versatile enough to arrange this. As busy as you usually are, this is a good time to concentrate your energies in a single direction and for you to feel less "scattered." Things should not bother you now, as your innermost feeling is one of stability.

Cancer (June 21-July 22): Well, here it is – YOUR month! The stress now is on your own personality and your ability to express yourself. Don't stay at home so much. For once, go out and assert yourself. Let the world know who you are! Your personal magnetism will draw others to you, so center stage is all yours. There may be a bit of moodiness on your part, but it won't be your usual moodiness. Instead, it will be an indication of your sudden need to break away from many things in the past and to start anew. More power to you!

Leo (July 23-Aug. 22): This well may be the only time of the year when you don't want to be the center of attention. Your strongest need now is for solitude and peace and quiet. Feelings of loneliness may pop up, but they won't last long. And ironically, even though your mood is mellow, others find you very attractive at this time. Be happy and realize that this temporary period of rest and quiet times is necessary for you. Very soon you'll be your active, sunny self again – all the better for having relaxed.

Virgo (Aug. 23-Sept. 22): Even though you are a loner at heart, you may meet many new friends now. Accept all social invitations, as you may get quite a few. Your mood is lighter, less serious. People are aware of your sudden friendliness and calm disposition. Making plans for the future is something you can do now with extreme optimism. Also, you are feeling totally unselfish, so go ahead and share your happy mood with those around you.

Libra (Sept. 23-Oct. 22): It is your basic nature to be very sociable. But now your attention and energy are directed toward career decisions. This is a great time to advance yourself on the job, perhaps get a long-deserved promotion. You may find yourself surrounded by admirers, as there is an air of dignity about you. This is because you are feeling more confident now and nothing can stand in your way!

Scorpio (Oct. 23-Nov. 21): Well, you can snap out of your bad mood now! Not only are you in a fantastic mood, but you're as restless as ever. Why not take a trip? A vacation would be perfect right now. The desire to travel will be strong and so will the desire to have fun. Your laughter is infectious. And your mind is full of brilliant ideas. You will probably astound others with your insight and clear-minded thinking.

Sagittarius (Nove. 22-Dec. 21): Even though you are always so open, cheerful and optimistic this is a private time for you. You will surprise even yourself by being so secretive. Yo must guard that blunt temper of yours, as it will be easy to fly off the handle. Take care of any financial matters that require attention. And you may be unexpectedly surprised, as you just might come into some extra money!

Capricorn (Dec. 22-Jan. 19): For once, you can put your career plans and ambition aside and just concentrate on being sociable. Have fun! After all, you might just meet someone very special right now. It will be easier for you to mingle with other people. Why not have a party? The mood will be perfect and you are a wonderful host or hostess. Just relax and accept any new people that come into your life.

Aquarius (Jan. 20-Feb. 19): Why are you so moody? Perhaps things are not going well at work. Or maybe you don't feel in the best of health. In any case, take the time to be alone and relax. Everyone is entitled to an "off period" for awhile. Pay close attention to your diet and perhaps get some exercise. Chances are you have been working too hard and just need a rest. Soon you will be your usual friendly self again!

Pisces (Feb. 19-March 20): You lucky person, you! Now is the perfect time for you to fall in love and experience much happiness. Your spirits are high and luck is on your side. Socialize, do what you feel and be aware that you are radiating beauty and happiness to all those around you. Having fun is on your agenda, practically every day. So get out there and LIVE!

Tracks makes women smile

Tracks should have won the Mollie Award for community service, because they are the one mixed bar in town that really takes care of the men and the women.

May's Women's Night, for example, featured the usual fine fare of good cheer, good drinks, good music, and wonderful bartenders. The women turned out in droves again, no doubt to Tracks growing reputation for catering to the ladies of the community.

A nice addition at the door was the first female I've ever seen at Tracks. Vickie, who was checking ID's that night, is a familiar face among women in Denver, and was a welcome sight at the Women's Party.

Thanks again Tracks!

OUTSIDE IN

impressions, outside in, guest editorial, or whatever else you might want to key this. frankly, i give a damn.

My life changed a little last week.

My parents were made privy to the fact that I am gay. And that my little sister is gay. And that my two brothers are gay.

We didn't just spring it on them; their finding out was a series of strange circumstances that just happened to fall down around their heads.

I think I took it worse than they did, because I was afraid of them: for the guilt that is a traditional role for parents to play when they find out. I was afraid for myself and my siblings, because I didn't want us to lose our parents.

A friend of mine told me I would be relieved that it was out after some questions were asked and answered, but I could not conceive of that as reality. Now this week I know she's right.

I leaned on people who gave of themselves. I called Parents and Friends of Gays, who gave hope that my parents' lives would not end with this, and that they would help all of us get through it. I talked to endless people who I could never repay for their caring; I had rare moments of being brave and knowing that I wasn't going to change no matter what happened. But mostly I just turned to mush.

Now I give my parents credit for being adults, and I know nothing will ever tear my family apart, if this didn't. And naturally, they still love us. We're still they're kids.

My brothers Gary and Mark, and my sister Lisa, are very special to me, as I know they are to each other. We share a lot. The one person holding us together, though, is my older sister, Linda, who has five beautiful little girls that she shares with us. She says she feels like the oddball, and I guess I don't blame her. But she should know what she is to us.

Denver's Gay community is the support system anyone could need. My thanks to Jan, Florida, and Betsy at the Three Sisters for sharing my fears, and my triumphs. You really know how to understand.

A dream from twenty years ago in an Indiana college has come to fulfillment in Denver, Colorado.

As college students at Anderson College, Anderson, Indiana, Herb Nobles and Brad Wilson often talked of a team ministry. They wanted a ministry they both could be involved in. However, Wilson went on to pastor churches in Boston, Hamilton, Ohio and Eastern Kentucky. In 1966 he went to Miami, Florida and was involved in urban ministry. He was an activist for the Gay Rights Movement and founded a predominantly gay/lesbian church in Miami. He then came to Denver where he has been active in the gay community.

Nobles went on to pastor churches in Tennessee, West Virginia, Virginia, North Carolina, Illinois and Iowa. He needed to be open about his lifestyle and wanted an honest, open ministry within the gay/lesbian community. Now, over twenty years later, Nobles and Wilson have established a new congregation in Denver that will have a strong outreach to the gay/lesbian community.

The new church is the First Federated Christian Church. The term "federated" is used because the church brings together the best traditions of the Church of God (Anderson) and the Christian Church (Disciples of Christ) from which Wilson and Nobles respectively come from. The church is sacramental and will employ a presbyter form of government.

Wilson has wide experience in evangelism, counseling, theology and social action. Nobles brings to the federation twenty years of pastoral ministry, counseling, choral conducting, church administration and sacred instrumental music.

Persons desiring more information may call the church office at 393-8612.

The Bittersweet Victory or The Confrontation of 22 May by Kevin Harty

After a long day of socializing among friends, we were tired and desirous to turn in.

The show was over. Many people were busy removing theatrical make-up, and placing their costumes carefully away.

A few of us had gathered near the entrance passing greetings and farewells, while we awaited brothers and friends to finish with their attire.

The word went out that automobile windows were being smashed, again.

My mind was racing. Remembering our driver's window that is still missing. A friend's red van with the windshield smashed, two rear tires slashed, and the word "FAG" cut deep into the paint. I remembered others who had been beaten, and numerous incidents of hate came quickly to mind.

We rushed outside to defend our properties, and to engage the enemy, HATE.

The battle was short, sweet, and for the most part victorious.

It was over. The police on the scene; the DMZ having been drawn, and the ambulance treating the injured.

Anyone who walks away from a scene of violence, usually begins to question, WHY?

Hatred has been forced upon us time, and time again. Even though the vast majority of us would prefer to be left alone, in peace.

This hatred is a shame to our City, and our Nation. It shows us that the society condones and promotes violence. It also shows that there is very little respect for Freedoms or individual rights.

History will teach us that in order to attain the freedoms that we all deserve as a society we must be heard. Not just heard but understood. To this end I have personally informed my family, and straight friends about these things. It is in our best interest not to keep quiet, as that will allow ignorance to abound.

It is our duty as citizens with rights to raise the conscious level of our society as a whole. Only when people are aware of what is happening will the violence, and property damage cease or at least be curtailed.

Remember that the true enemy is not the straights, but rather ignorance and hate.

"How many times can a man turn his head and pretend that he just doesn't see"?

There are two things that can be done in order to overcome these situations in the future. The first is never suppress what has happened. Inform as many as possible. The second is to give a brother or sister in need a hand. At least we have some safety in numbers.

I leave you with just one question. Please think about it. "Does equal protection under the law mean that we should have to defend ourselves against violence with violence?"

In Sincere Love of Brotherhood,
Kevin Harty

MARCH OF THE FALSETTOS

By Frank Armstrong

Thursday, May 19 Bo-Bans Cabaret opened William Finn's musical "March of the Falsettos". The entirely sung musical centers around Marvin played by Ben Detterman and the love triangle between his wife Trina played by Jeanne Abele and his lover Whizzer played by Paul L. King. Other characters in the play were Marvin's psychiatrist Mendel played by Frank Fowler and Marvin's son Jason played by Eric Warble.

The musical was well written, but the voices of the three men were shaky and somewhat ineffective. Jeanne Abele's voice was strong and well executed. Eric Warble sang decently for an adolescent, but his facial expressions made up for any of his shortcomings.

The stage was of simple design to accentuate the musical numbers. Except for the shaky voices of the three men, I feel that the play related an underlying meaning that everyone could relate to.

Court Candidate hosts cookout

Colorado's 1st rodeo is wet and wild!

The Colorado Gay Rodeo Association presented their 1st Rocky Mountain Regional Rodeo, June 3, 4, 5 at Aurora's Coal Creek Rodeo Arena. The very well executed event was plagued by, what else, Colorado weather! But the spirits of the 1,200 people visiting was undaunted by the cold and rain.

The Rodeo events were the culmination of a four day Rodeo weekend starting with "The Wild West Rodeo Show" on the Thursday night before. Friday was devoted to the selection of a Grand Marshal with 10 persons competing for the coveted title. They came from Texas, California, Nevada, Arizona and New Mexico for this the 1st Regional Rodeo, a preliminary to the National Gay Rodeo held in Reno, Nevada each year.

A gala cocktail party was held on Friday night with all of our bars and businesses well represented with booths and employees in attendance. Over 600 people crowded into the Ramada on East Colfax. The winner of the Grand Marshal Contest was announced and a strong feel of Gay unity was felt and enjoyed. Gary from The Barn in Houston was installed as Grand Marshal after collecting a vast amount of funds, one of the requirements, and proving his rodeo experience. The people representing Houston had collected over $31,000.00 in funds to support their community and should be congratulated and praised. They also brought the largest contingent from out of state, 310 very proud people representing a very proud state.

Representatives from other states are also to be thanked and congratulated, especially California.

Our own Association deserves a pat on the back especially Wayne Jakino, Ron Jesser, Betty Waylon and Rick R. with help from many others, the Rodeo was a total success and very good for the Denver and Colorado community.

Who won? Best All Around Cowboy – Richard and Best All Around Cowgirl – Robbie Robinson. Once again, congratulations Rodeo Association, you done Good!

To the people of Denver, if you weren't there, you missed a hell of a good time!

Fox Hole owner Marty speaks on "fruits of labor"

by Kevin Harty

Marty, the owner of the Fox Hole, arrived in Denver, Colorado in 1959 to attend the University of Denver.

He, like many of us, decided to make the Mile High City his home.

Marty and his partner Niel Fienstein own a real estate business. He also appears to have a good head for his business ventures.

Like any business the fruit of hard labor is only seen after many years of work. That fruit of labor is what we see in the Fox Hole.

I asked Marty why he decided to engage himself in a gay business. He explained how he has owned the property that the Fox Hole is located on for the last thirteen years. During those years he watched as the bar went through its many changes. He decided that the business could be very lucrative if properly managed and promoted.

Marty's partner Niel owns Tracks. Tracks was initially owned by both men, and was in the beginning an after-hours bar. Niel's business, "Bottoms Inc.", became the sole owner of Tracks. The property, however, is still owned by the real estate business.

I asked Marty if his family or friends objected to him owning and operating a gay establishment. He answered, "No, but my mother asked if I was making a living at it".

Marty, like a good business man, has put forth a lot of effort to give our community some respectability with the following: He is a current member of the Tavern Guild. A strong supporter of GLCC. The Denver Athletic Union. He has also aided many other organizations in our city.

His bar boasts having the only representation in the city volleyball and softball leagues. This includes both men's and women's teams.

His bus, the Titanic, has taken people to voter registration points throughout the city. This same bus will be used to take people to the polls on election day.

The Fox Hole will also be having an A.I.D.S. benefit for the GLCC A.I.D.S. fund on Saturday the 25th of June. Miller High Life has donated $2,000.00 for the event, and Marty is donating all the beer. Therefore, all the monies collected at the door will go to the fund. So for $4.00 you may have all the beer you want from 1:00 to 6:00 p.m.

They have scheduled a fun race on the 9th of July. The race will be titled, "The Great Gay Bike Race". There will be other bars included in this event. For further details check with Mr. Hanley at the Fox Hole. Also, in the future the Fox Hole is planning a golf tournament, sometime in August.

I asked Marty if he had any business fantasy that he could think of. He laughed and said, "Yes, I would like to own a gay bank".

My final question was one that I was curious about. I asked Marty what he thought of the gay community, both good and bad after the last three years in the business. He stated that gays are better educated, more tolerant, and more understanding. He also thought that gays were not assertive enough in seeking basic rights.

Thank you Marty for supporting my community.

Mountaineers show 'skin

The RMMC presented an overnight run on June 11th and 12th complete with a rafting trip in the "Royal Gorge" and completed with beer bust Sunday at The Tool Box.

Although only a few decided to enjoy the run, all seemed very pleased with the overnight event. The beer bust was, of course, great and well attended.

Center hosts vigil for A.I.D.S.

The GLCCC held a vigil for our A.I.D.S. victims in front of the U.S. Court House on May 26th. The event, covered by several of the local news media was quickly thrown together and very poorly advertised, but a steadfast crowd of fifty-five or more gathered to listen to a proposal concerning A.I.D.S. funding read by Carol Lease of the G.L.C.C.C. Another vigil will be held on June 26th, and we presume the Center will inform more of the general public with the appropriate posters and ads. This is a very important issue and should be handled professionally.

THE GAY GOURMET

By "CHEF PRINCE" - MARC BRINCIVALLI, JR.

An open letter community restaurant and bar owners

Dear Owner-person(s),

You may not know me I'm sure. I come into your establishment as often as I can, finances being what they are.

I'm your everyday, average patron – I work hard for my money – I pay my bills – I vote at each election – I support as many functions as my wallet allows – I go to church – I struggle with all the political and economic problems of the day. You see I am just the average patron who comes into your place of business to relax – to eat – to drink – maybe to dance – to have friendship and meet new acquaintances.

Now I've told your staff at various times about problems I've encountered with the warm beer or weak drink or bad food or improper food presentation or bad service or a hundred other things that bother your average patron. I also tell them how much I enjoyed this or that. But you know what? I never see any improvement about my complaints, so I felt it necessary to write to you personally Owner-person(s) in hope something will be done or at least understood. I hope your staff is trained to direct all complaints, yes even the compliments, to you personally so you may know what is going on. Or at least your manager should be able to give you the highs and lows of the day's operation both food, beverage or whatever else goes on.

I wonder why we sometimes don't receive dollar value for dollar spent? I know you are beset with inflationary measures but so am I, so am I. If we can communicate with you then possibly we can get things done, for you see Owner-person(s) I am the CUSTOMER. I am Numero Uno – I pay your bills – your staffs salary – your good times – Yes, I do and I as a customer deserve to be treated like the person who does all of the above aforementioned.

I wonder who says the music in your place should be so loud you cannot conduct a conversation. I wonder why all your customers do not just plain order in a normal speaking voice to your staff. Then we'll see if the orders are filled or if your staff has to acquire hearing aids. Is the loudness for the satisfaction of the Owner(s) or the staff?

Why is it that in our community the waiters wear clothes none of your customers would be caught dead in? Don't you have a dress code for your staff – Why do your cooks look like they just came out of the bushes? Why do you allow all the acts of a Fellini Circus to take place? Did it ever occur to you we bring members of our family into your restaurant – your bar – your dance hall? Or are you saying lookie here folks – here are all the faggots – see how they act in public? Where are standards – where are policies and procedures. Where – Where?

We do not have to trade in your place of business and unless many changes take place you will find a loss of customers because of your not caring, indifferent or suck 'em till they bleed attitude.

I notice a Tavern Guild has been formed. I wish them success. I already note some bars are not in tune and march not to a different drummer but to no beat at all.

I've been in businesses in our community many times and the owner(s) never come over and say "hello" – "thanks for coming" – even in the worst winter in Denver I went out to visit the businesses and no one said "Hey – thanks for coming out on such a miserable nite" – or how come when I am working late and need something to eat and arrive before closing time I'm treated like "Why the hell did you have to come here now." I feel and demand you treat me at 9:45 p.m. just like you treat the customer at 5:10 p.m. and I demand it.

I believe it is time for all of our community to demand from you the owner(s) more concern, more caring, doing what the customers want, get in touch with reality my friends because your volatile community in Denver is no longer just going to be "easy-going". No sir, we'll support you and you support us. It's a two way street. It will take all of us to help you as the Owner(s) to respond to customer needs – to new ideas – to polish up old ideas. We support you – that's obvious – You must now support us and our needs. I know we can count on you to re-evaluate – analyze and weed out and make your business an even better one.

Thanks for listening,
Your Customer

Recipe of the Month

Fritatta (Omelette) Italiano
A Brunch Specialty
Serves 4 persons

Ingredients:

3 large eggs per person
½ cup heavy cream
¼ lb. melted butter – do not scorch
¼ cup white wine – room temperature
2 Bell Peppers – ¼" strips
1 small white onion – minced
2 medium sized tomatoes (ripe) – cubed
¼ cup Parmesan Cheese (grated)
¼ lb. Provolone Cheese – ¼" strips*
⅛ lb. Romano Cheese (grated)
Salt & pepper to taste
1 tblsp. Worchestershire Sauce
1 tsp. garlic salt

#1 In a large bowl mix eggs, cream, butter, salt and pepper, Worchestershire sauce and garlic salt. Blend in thoroughly. Set aside.

#2 In a separate bowl combine all other ingredients. Set aside.

*Note: Set aside the Provolone strips.

In a large skillet (cast iron preferred) melt ¼ lb. butter on medium flame. Do not scorch the butter. Add to the melted butter mixture #1 (eggs, etc.) and cover for 2 minutes. Uncover and begin to rock pan side to side, keeping close to flame or heating element and with a wooden spoon begin to spread the liquid interior of the fritatta to the outside so as to allow all the fritatta to cook – do this for another 2 minutes. Now to the eggs add all of #2 mixture (peppers, onion, etc.) and now take ½ of the fritatta and cover the second half – allow to cook for 2 more minutes and flip the fritatta over to cook 2 more minutes.

Now add the Provolone strips to the fritatta, placing them evenly on the top side.

Remove fritatta to a large serving dish. Cover with your favorite spaghetti sauce and sprinkle a little more Parmesan Cheese on top – garnish with parsley all around and serve.

Hot bread is a must – do not serve garlic bread as this could be offensive so early in the day. Just lightly butter one side of the bread and place in muffin pan for a few minutes in a 375° oven. Serve with jelly and/or marmalade.

A thick slice of canteloupe with each plate would give good palate enjoyment. A few strawberries would be welcome also. Have all this ready before you cook off the Fritatta.

Potatoes peasant-style is in order. Wash – do not peel – and slice at least ¼" thick, lay in skillet with melted butter, salt and pepper, add ¼ tsp. garlic salt and a pinch of Oregano. Cover and keep turning – these should be started at least 15 minutes before you begin the Fritatta.

Sparkling Burgundy goes well.

After brunch – Bailey's Irish Creme

Coffee and Danish a little bit later.

Make your own place mats out of construction paper to meet your theme – Remember what I always say – every event needs a theme – really – try it, you'll like it. Trust me.

See you next month,

Bon Apetit – Ciao

Mollies pay tribute to community spirit

On Sunday, June 12th,The Mollies Awards International were officially off and running. Presented to honor our people who work so hard for "our community" such as the bars, businesses and clubs, and private individuals, the awards in general were very well accepted. Most categories were elected by the audience in attendance, although anyone could come and vote. Mr. Jaye Sutherland and Mr. Mark Bovay MC'd the two and one-half hour event and moved from each section quickly and easily. A fund raiser for The Bob Jones Memorial Fund and Parents & Friends of Gays, the event drew about 144 people plus workers, but remained in the red, much to the organizers chagrin. They have stated monies from their own pockets will be presented to the charities to compensate for the event not clearing any cash. Mr. Ron Heath did raise $30 with one exceptional number to the audience. The following won in each category with the exception of non-elected awards:

Best Doorperson - Walt P. - Charlie's
Organizational Achievement - Imperial Court
Best Mini-Function - "Bye, Bye Bublz LaRue"
Best Waiter - Jim H. - Charlie's
Best Function - Coronation 9 & 10 - Imperial Court
Best Waitress - Cheryl - Cherry Creek
Community Service - P.F.G.
Best Pleasure Palace - Ballpark
Best Pleasure Palace Attendant - Frank A. - Ballpark
Best New Entertainer - Tracey La Tress
Best Entertainer - Tracey La Tress
Best Bar Owner - John King - Charlie's
Bartender of the Year - Bill Hale - Charlie's
Bar of the Year - Charlie's
Best Chef - Tammi - The Den
Show of the Year - Nina's Valentine Show
Bitch of the Year - Brown Sugar
Dist. Service Award - Bob Engle - B.J.'s
D.J. of the Year - Johnny Contreas - Tracks & Cherry Creek

For the most part everything was smooth, there were grumbles about the voting but it boiled down to you had to have your supporters there in order to win!

Photography contest kicks off second year of creativity

BJ's second "Year of Gay Creativity" got off to a rousing start last month with the Photography Contest, first in a series of three competitions to be held throughout 1983.

There were more than a hundred entries in the contest, which was open to everyone, and winners were announced in ceremonies held May 23rd at the bar.

In the black & white category top honors went to Charles Fuetwell (1st place); Ted Buel (2nd place); Barry North (3rd place) and Barry North again (honorable mention).

In the color division winners were Monte Goetz (1st place); Ray "Woody" Wirth (2nd place); Tony Wagner (3rd place) and Dora Seay (honorable mention).

Each of the winners in the Photography Contest received certificates of appreciation and cash prizes totaling $1,000. All of the entries in the Photography Contest will be displayed at BJ's on a rotating basis during the next three months. Together they comprise a show any gallery would be proud to hang.

Next on the "Year of Gay Creativity" agenda will be the Painting and Drawing competition. There are four categories in this contest: "painting" (which includes oils, watercolor, acrylic, etc.); "soft media" (charcoal, pastels); "drawing" (pen & ink, pencil) and "mixed media" (collage, etching, print making, silk screening, or any combination of the preceeding).

Rules for the Painting and Drawing competition are as follows:

- all work must be original;
- a maximum of six works per entrant, two per category, permittted;
- each work must be protected by foil, paper or plastic (no glass);
- each entry must have a completed entry form taped to the back (forms available at BJ's Carousel, 1380 So. Broadway, Denver);
- entries must be received at BJ's by midnight, Monday, Aug. 15.

Judging for the Painting and Drawing contest will be by an impartial panel of professionals from the Denver gay community. Prizes in each category will be $115 for each first place; $75 for each second place; $45 for each third place, and $15 for each honorable mention. Winners will be announced and prizes awarded at BJ's at 9 pm Monday, Aug. 22.

For further information please contact BJ's Carousel, (303) 777-9880.

Tool Box celebrates Flag Day

The Tool Box broke with general tradition Tuesday, June 14th with a great Flag Day Beer Bust and celebration. Complete with special drinks and a display of flags from around the world, the event was well enjoyed by the 200 plus in attendance. Door prizes were offered by Mr. S Leathers and we even got to check out Mr. Leather Colorado's undies. It was a great way to start the week.

Roger, Brandi host hoedown

The present monarchs of the Imperial Court presented their 1st official function Sunday, June 12th at Charlie's, 7900 Colfax. The fun-filled event was the culmination of the week long anniversary celebration at Charlie's, Denver's only C/W bar. With a good ole' bar-b-que, a short, well planned show and cocktail hour the event was enjoyed by all.

Rubber Husbands take a "vacation"

They've done it again.

The Rubber Husbands brought their audience to its feet last week as they proved just how much they "need a vacation."

Summertime and vacationing was the theme of the show at the Three Sisters Sat., June 11. Lyn, Bucy, Vickie and Florida swept through decades of songs and ballads that bordered the theme, laced with some exotic additions (like Stray Cat Strut) that lent a new dimension to the show.

The Rubber Husbands, who characterize themselves as a "mime air band," are definitely the best drag queens in Denver. Their shows are rainbows – filled with bright, versatile color. They are quick with surprises (ask Vickie if she's going to camp this summer), and they give every cheering, screaming member of their audience her money's worth.

The vacation show brought new talent to light as Naked Eyes, Connie Francis, Donna Summer, and even Barbra Streisand were personified for the first time by the Husbands. As usual, backup vocals were a major part of every song, as were a variety of excellent costume changes.

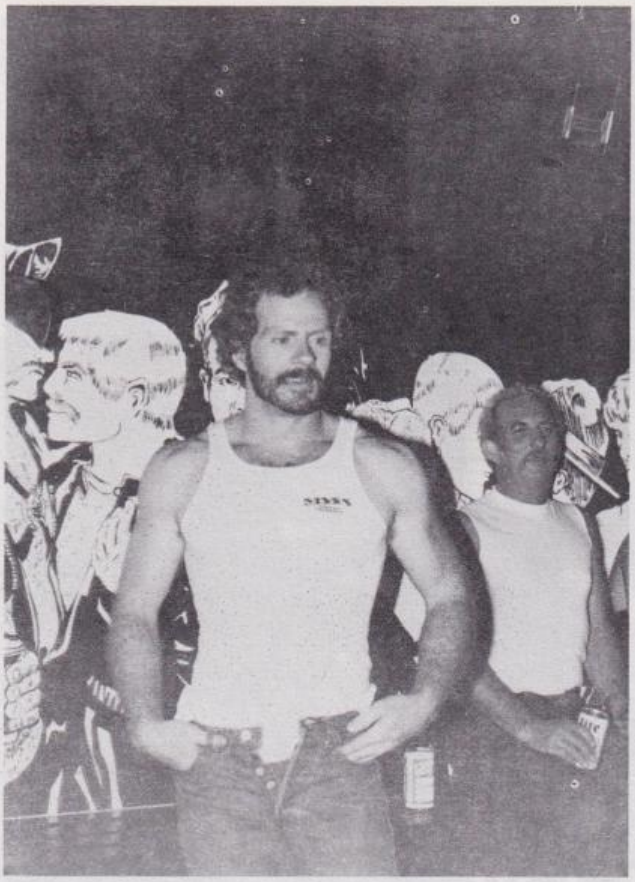
The real crowd killer that night, as the Rubber Husbands might have expected since they saved the best for last, was Florida's raging rendition of Irene Cara's "Flashdance." Women lined both aisles to the stage to hand dollar bills (crumpled singles?) to Florida.

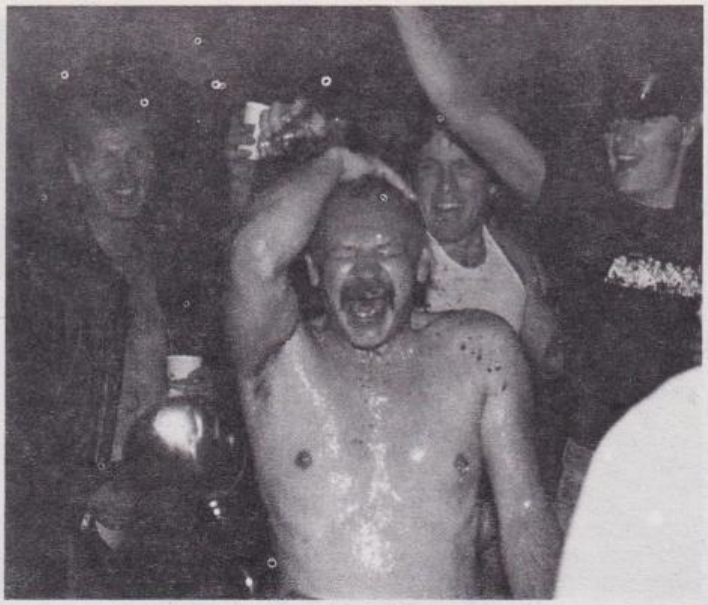
The Rubber Husbands earned the gratitude of their audience with their time and unlimited energy. I'm sure I speak for many in asking them to perform more often.

Leather and Sweat are new on Terrace

Two new gay owned businesses were opened on Broadway Terrace during May. Mr. S Leathers and The Broadway Bodyworks. Mr. S Leathers, located at 135 Broadway, offers a wide selection of leather goods for the discerning leather man or woman. Items are kept in open stock or may be ordered and custom made. Items include, leather pants, vests, chaps, T-shirts and other products for the leather person. If you don't see it, please ask Wayne for it and he will get it.

Broadway Bodyworks, located at 160 South Broadway, is one first-class gym. Designed with the needs of each patron in mind, the Bodyworks houses some of the best weight equipment found anywhere. From amateur needs to power lifters and aerobic nuts the Bodyworks offers something for everyone. The rates are extremely reasonable and a full time staff of experts are there to aid and assist you. Soon to open, a health food restaurant and juice bar to complement the facility and add to your health requirements. Oh, just in passing, you should go by and see Bodyworks even if it is to enjoy the scenery, the staff is HOT!





Tool Box patrons "howl" at party

May 26th was the date of the hottest Full Moon Party ever at the Tool Box. Complete with the usual bike christening, tattooing and door prizes. The function was highlighted with a Best Looking Buns contest, Largest Box contest and Best Looking in Leather contest. It was HOT. Rod from Colorado Springs took Largest Box, Frank A. – Best Looking Buns with Andy a close second and David S. – Best Looking in Leather. The prizes were donated by the new leather store Mr. S.

Motorcycle Club members test skills with cards

After being rained out on May 15th, the Rocky Mountaineers held their annual Poker Run on Sunday, May 22nd starting at The Den. The day was very clouded but several bikers did participate and I am told had a terrific time. On this run you win only with your Poker Hand for drivers and your Poker Chips for buddies. It is a skill test run and is very well thought of by those who attend. The run was ended at The Den and a great beer bust followed with The Den's usual hospitality.

FLY WITH THE EAGLE TO THE DARK SIDE OF YOUR DREAMS

Call us now for full details on our Halloween weekend Folsom leather trip to San Francisco. $330.00 cost includes round trip air fare, hotel accommodations, private party at the infamous Catacombs, and more (deposit required, monthly payment plan available). Fulfill your fantasy as you travel with Denver's club for men who know the real meaning of a helping hand.

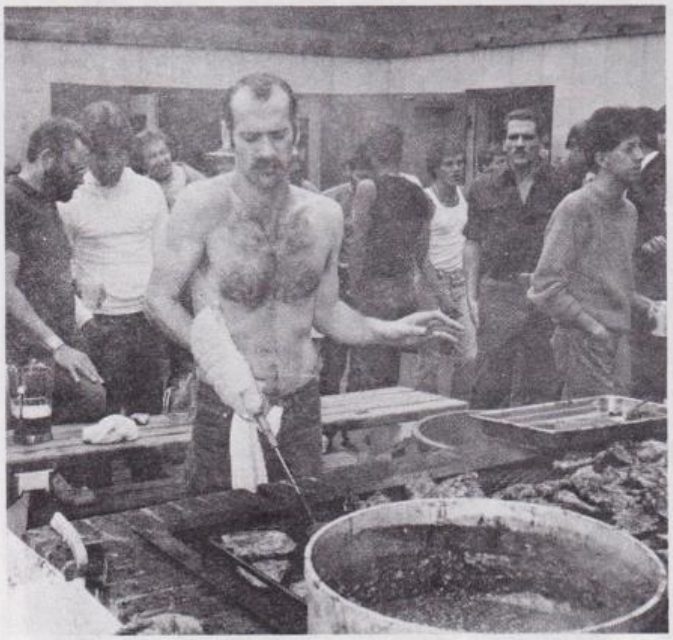
David's holds vacation drawing

On May 29th David's presented their Tropical Heat Wave Party to draw the lucky number for an all-expense paid vacation to the Marlin Beach Hotel in Florida. The event was fantastic with Sailfish on the walls and Bobby Palmtree spinning hot wax for everyone's pleasure. Bobby returned to Denver not too long ago and displayed his D.J. talents to the fullest. He is damn GOOD and we hope to hear more from him very soon.



Fox Hole barbecues memories

For the 2nd year, Foxhole presented a fantastic Bar-B-Que surpassed by none! Over 1,000 persons crowded the patio on this occasion with great food and booze, highlighted by exceptional music. Jimmie, Chef for the day's event, did one hell of a job, it was great.

Mike's, Tool Box help Rodeo participants celebrate

Well known for their joint Busts, Mike's/Tool Box presented a very special Beer Bust after the Rodeo events on Sunday, June 5th. For one price you drank all the beer you could hold and enjoyed special prices on drinks with door prizes to boot. Over 500 crowded into both establishments and were representing their own bars and clubs. People from The Colt 45's – Houston – The Barn – Ripcord, Mary's and Sundance in Dallas just to name a few. Great Bust. By the way, Bob T. a bartender at the Tool Box had his bike christened in grand style. Not just beer, huh Bob!

A FUNNY FARM?

Once, The Den presented a great little show "Funny Farm" on Wednesday, June 15th. Kelli Marie Kayemart spearheaded the event. All comedy numbers were featured during the short show and the crowd laughed themselves silly. It was sick, but a lot of fun.

A Salute to my Leather Master Marc Brincivalli, Jr.

I am but a servant
to only one man,
I do as he wants
I do what I can.

I come to him
as a humble slave
I worship his mastery
This I do crave!

To him, my body talks
At first a deep sigh,
Until, with his touch
I reach a new high.

My goal is to please him!
To make his world right!
To give him much pleasure!
Not he, will I slight.

Yes, he is my Master
His slave, that is I.
I'll give all I have
To him, 'til I die.

To Leather
Your Leather Slave,
Stephen

Ripcord visits!

The Ripcord from Houston, a new leather bar, visited Denver for the Rocky Mountain Regional Rodeo. The owners Steve and Vince with their manager and bartenders spread Texas hospitality all over while here. They are crazy and fantastic people. Several of us had the pleasure of escorting these guys up to Estes Park and Trail Ridge Road after the Rodeo, it was great. No, Troy, not the "yellow snow!"

The Press is honored

The Tool Box and Mike's 1st on Broadway honored The Inside/Outside Press by presenting a Public Appreciation Day for our benefit. For $4 you could drink all the beer you desired at either bar and could eat chili at the Tool Box or hot dogs at Mike's. We had a bike christening, door prizes and even an underwear search. It was one fun-filled event, and we of The Inside/Outside wish to wholeheartedly thank both bars for their kindness. I have always felt that Denver's bars and bar people are the best anywhere and this just helped to prove it. THANKS AGAIN!
